5 Steps to Blaze the Stage
Every Time

The background features several bright, yellow stage spotlights shining down from the top, creating a dramatic effect. The entire scene is filled with a dense layer of small, golden-yellow confetti or glitter, giving it a festive and celebratory feel.

TAKING THE Stage

1. What fine arts department are you a part of?
2. Tell me 1 thing you do to prepare for performances?

Artistically

- Choose music that fits your style and level of ability
- Learn your music so deeply that you can deliver every phrase with conviction.
- Have polished stage presence
- Stay ready so you don't have to get ready

Technically

- Know the importance of practice
- Set specific, pertinacious goals
- Build your endurance
- Isolate and troubleshoot problem spots
- Increase confidence
- Improve memorization
- Maintain a growth mindset

Mentally & Emotionally

- Overcome stage fright: mentally and physically stimulated
- Combat anxiety with mini performances
- Transform negative emotions into fuel and focus

Physically

- Rest
- Eat what nourishes you
- Circumvent counterproductive activities

Organizationally

- Have (or know) your music
- Look good so you feel good
- Be early so you're on time
- Know what's expected of you

Q&A

Important questions to ask yourself.

1
Question

Is there anything holding you back from launching your nonprofit? If so, what is it?

2
Question

What will happen to the people who you want to serve without your nonprofit's existence?

3
Question

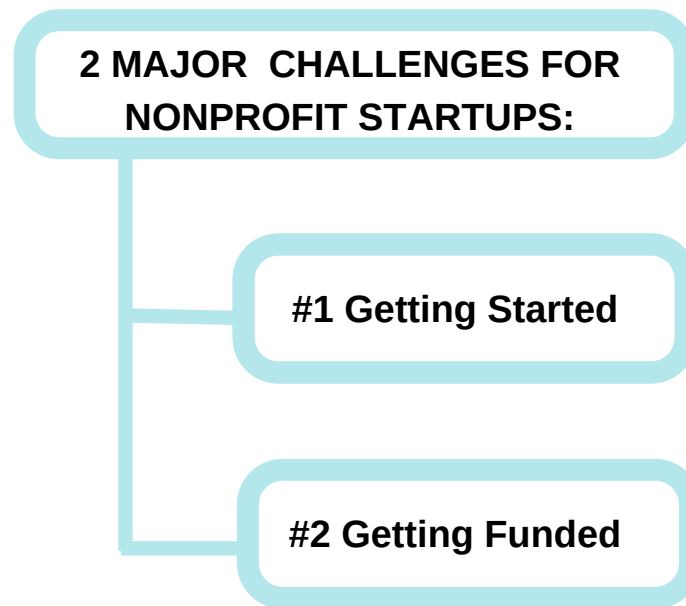

On a scale from 1-10 (10 is the highest), rate how ready you are to invest into your vision to make it a reality. Explain.

Notes

NOW, LET'S GET STARTED...

OVERVIEW

In this presentation, we will share possible challenges when starting a nonprofit as well as the solutions to overcome them.
